

History/Art - How did the Ancient Greeks demarcate themselves?

Use this information document to find out all about Ancient Greek Pottery.

Think about:

What patterns and images are on the pottery?

How were they made? What did they hold?

Are there any similarities between the different images on the pots?

Using the images and information you have found, create a poster/power point/collage of what Ancient Greek pottery was like, how it was made and what it was used for!

History/Art - How did the Ancient Greeks demarcate themselves?

Look at these Images of Ancient Greek Jewellery. What do you notice about the material they are made from? What do you think it said about the people who wore them? Would everyone be able to wear this jewellery?

I would like you to design 3 different pieces of jewellery that could have been made in the Ancient Greek times.

Think about:

- What colours you might use
- What patterns you may choose to include
- Could you incorporate a character from greek mythology?

RE - Why is Lent such an important period for Christians?

What is Lent?

Look at this website and find out all about what Lent is. There is a video to help you.

What is Lent? - BBC Bitesize

Now that you know what Lent is, have a think about what you would give up for Lent if you were asked to. You could draw what you would give up and write an explanation as to why on a blank piece of paper or there is a sheet you could use.

RE - Why is Lent such an important period for Christians?

What is the story of Lent and how is it celebrated?

Look at this PowerPoint that tells you the story of Jesus fasting for 40 days and nights and resisting temptation after his baptism.

Can you explain what the message was that Jesus was trying to teach people through this story and how Christians celebrate Lent to remember Jesus's sacrifice?
